About us

We are a group of creative, driven and like-minded homo sapiens, that are on a mission to build and provide means of effective and meaningful communication through a unique blend of technology, design philosophies and out of the box ideas.

Yummy NH8

NH8 in Bangalore is a theme restaurant that brings the iconic and flavorsome delicacies from different states of India, connected by National Highway 8, all under one roof. They wanted a website that would bring out their idea to the world and convey the vibe of the restaurant to everyone, a website that would narrate the story of the unique food trail and its origins. We created a website that integrates a scroll-able journey which reveals food items based on the city of their origin, leading to a conclusive dish that holds all the delicacies they serve- the ‘Maharaja Thali.’ We also integrated the same design language in their packaging through abstract art that enabled them in defining and conveying their motto “Bringing the Journey of Taste to you.” To continue the creative communication furthermore, we took over their digital marketing and helped them reach out to consumers efficiently, keeping NH8 trending and assuring outstanding brand recall.

Nh8 Restaurant reservation/feedback system

The client wanted a completely custom and seamless software to manage his 3 branches spread across the southern part of India. This software was created as a webapp using Core Php and SQL database since the client wanted easy access across all devices and platforms using just a URL. The features of this web app include table reservation, customer database, feedback, analytics, send promotional messages; just to name a few.

~Tokri Chaat~

This chaat is like a Pandora box, offering a scrumptious combination of so many complimentary ingredients that leave you wanting more. You can always play around with different ingredients like pomegranate, chickpeas, white peas, sweet and sour chutneys, yogurt, etc. in the filling.

The Basket :

- Peel the potatoes, wash them thoroughly and then grate them.
- Boil the potatoes until they are soft. Drain off the extra starch and drain.
- Place the grated potatoes in a vegetable strainer and deep fry in the baskets on medium flame till golden brown.
- Once done, tap the strainer lightly to unmold the basket, repeat with the remaining potatoes.
- Place on a paper towel to get rid of the extra oil.

The Filling :

- Soak boondi in hot water for about 5 minutes and drain off the excess water.
- Now add the following chutneys; white peas, soaked boondi, green pomegranate, boiled potato cubes, green chillies, red chilli powder, as well as salt and mix well.
- Now follow it with chopped tomato, yogurt, green chutney, tamarind chutney and black salt.
- Garnish with coriander leaves and fine sev.

Meera Dyestuff

Based in Gujarat, ‘Meera Dyestuff’ is a leading B2B business that manufactures & markets dyes. Dyestuff is to dyes and colors, what crude is to petrol and gas- the very foundation. The fresh management of the business summoned the need of a fresher and appealing look, thereby enabling them to venture out into international markets. The brightness and sustainability of their colors is what makes them special. Our approach to take it ahead was “Colors for Infinity & Beyond”, with the infinity sign incorporated in their logo. This approach gave it a young, charismatic & elegant look.

JasmaTech

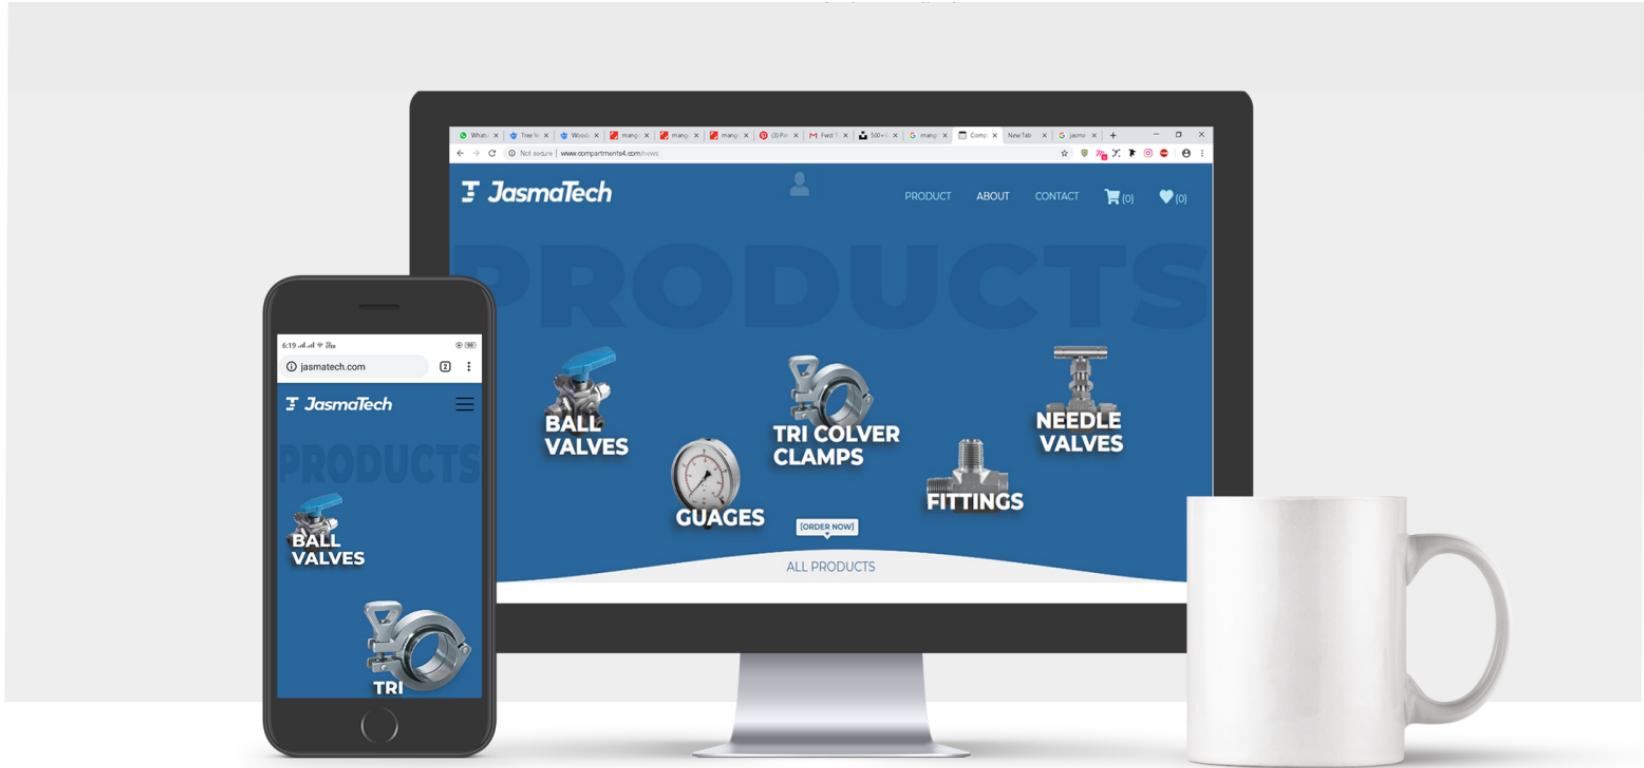

Jasma Tech is a 3rd generation family business that deals in industrial plumbing solutions. They are the top dealers of various national/international brands and they specialize in creating custom solutions. Be it dairy, medicine or chemical, Jasmatech understands the process and devises a network of pipes and fittings best suited to the task. For their new identity, they wanted something bold and timeless, but they also wanted it to be a bit verbose, in the sense that the logo had to show a part from the industry. For the logo, instead of showing an actual pipe or fitting we created a shape that resembles the general aesthetic of pipes and fittings. We came up with a tag line "Fluids, the way you want them" which sums up what they do. We created a pattern indicating controlled flowing and stopping of fluid.

The logo for JasmaTech features a stylized, blocky letter 'T' composed of three vertical bars of decreasing height. To the right of the 'T' is the word 'JasmaTech' in a bold, sans-serif font. The 'J' is lowercase and italicized, while 'asmaTech' is in uppercase. The 'T' is also italicized and has a slight shadow effect.

Compartment S4

'Compartment S4 is a group of 8 young architects that are involved in an array of different activities. Apart from designing, they are actively involved in conducting workshops that teach different artistic skills, and also author magazines in architectural topics. They needed a website that echoed of their philosophies. For them we created a website that brought together a minimalistic design approach and multiple hand drawn illustrations and icons, in an effort to create something, as unique as them.

Patel & Jesalpura

Patel and Jesalpura Associates, is a team of Chartered Accountants based in Ahmedabad, Gujarat. With second generation of accountants joining their team, they sought out a fresh look and sleek website that would resonate with their personality. Key challenge being, Indian laws don't allow finance professionals to create a 'logo'. The problem needed a unique solution. Through a combination of unique fonts and styling of the characters, we enabled the name to function as a logo, while technically, just being a font. This, backed by the blend of right colors and a clean layout, created the perfect platform to bring the core values of the team into light.

The Poutinerie

Hailing from their experience, a group of young minds strived to bring Canadian cuisine to the people of Ahmedabad under their brand- The Poutinerie. The unique menu offers a range of diverse dishes that were new to the people, and also included some dishes that were in competition with some very well established brands. The responsibility of creating the right design and packaging rested on our shoulders. We created a unique logo for them that would include the element of their main dish, and also the name of the brand itself. To further continue our alliance with them, we helped them chart out and execute an innovative and quirky digital marketing strategy through social media, that can generate instant connection with the youth and at the same time, attract consumers of all ages.

The Farmer's Son

'The Farmer's Son' is an upcoming cold pressed juice brand. Their juices are made with recipes backed by traditional knowledge, focus on health and the best of hygienic practices. Each ingredient involved, is processed and handled with emphasis on maintaining high nutritional value. For their brand, we created a look that helps them stand apart from competitive brands. The logo incorporates a serene farm that can help bring the roots of its foundation in light. Each element of its packaging is well thought through to create value and easy recognition in terms of different flavors, and also the brand's identity.

Lamon

Lamon is an upcoming stock broking company in Gujarat whose vision is to invest in a safer future and also guarantee profits to their clients. The team from Lamon wanted us to rebrand the company in a way which appealed mainly to the youth and also piqued interest from people of different age groups highlighting money and the letter M in the process. We provided the client with a new logo and stationery.

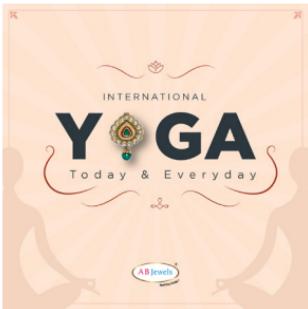

AB Jewels is one of the biggest and most well known jewellery stores in the Western part of India.

Their wide collection of diamond, gold, platinum and silver jewellery can be seen in a glamorous 4 storey building showroom, located in the heart of Ahmedabad. In the jewellery market since 1950, AB Jewels has won the heart and trust of the Indian public when it comes to high-quality personal ornaments. Cosaia currently handles digital marketing including social media for this client.

MOMENTS

By Miten R. Tolat

Moments by Miten R Tolat is the leading wedding videography company in the state of Gujarat in India. Cosaia was tasked with completely rebranding this huge company along with creating a new website. The brief was to give the brand a modern, sleek and minimalistic look keeping in mind the 70+ years of experience in this field. Our design team created a brand identity using perpendicular lines across the website and the stationery symbolizing frames. These frames are commonly used by photographers and videographers across the world.

The image displays a website design for 'MOMENTS' across three devices: a tablet, a smartphone, and a white ceramic mug. The website features a clean, modern layout with a white background. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'ABOUT', 'WHY US', 'MOMENTS' (the logo), 'WORK', 'SERVICES', and 'CLIENT LOGIN'. Below the navigation, the 'WHO WE ARE' section is shown on both the tablet and smartphone screens. This section includes a large black and white photograph of a team of six people standing behind a camera in a studio setting. To the right of the photo, there is a section titled 'ALL ABOUT CAPTURING THE MOMENTS' with descriptive text and a 'CONTACT US' button. The smartphone screen also shows a smaller version of the same content. The bottom of the tablet screen shows a section titled 'WHAT MAKES US SPECIAL'.

WHO WE ARE

ALL ABOUT CAPTURING THE MOMENTS

We are a team of videographers and cinematographers who believe in creating your moments timeless; moments of love, laughter and happily ever after. Our love for weddings comes from a very important belief that memories are timeless and is the core of our belief.

This defines our signature style; Candid moments captured with aesthetic sensibility of a wedding videographer; composition, color, light and a sense of story telling that make our films stand out. Because we don't just make films for the bride and groom to enjoy today, but for their grandkids to live those moments.

Don't be surprised if your parents tell you that we created their wedding films too. Our rich inheritance places us among one of the most sought after artists in the wedding film fraternity.
